Despite the fact that the ADP is currently about 4,000 inmates below what it was in 1998, the non-sentenced population is at its highest recorded level and rising. In 1998 (the year of the highest overall ADP), the ADP of non-sentenced inmates was 45,303. The ADP of non-sentenced inmates for the first three quarters of 2002 is 46,910 (an increase of over 1,600 non-sentenced inmates). Male inmates account for the entire increase (the number of non-sentenced females has changed little since 1998).
